From: Financial Times Briefing <FT@emailbriefings.ft.com>
To: ehbarak1@gmail.com
CC:
Date: Mon, 11/23/2015 9:34:34 AM
Subject: In today's FT: Fifa: The fall of thehouse of Blatter, Cameron dive...

To view this email as a webpage, click here

Monday November 23 2015

UK HOMEPAGE

Fifa: The fall of the house of Blatter

The inside story on the moves being made by football's governing body to survive amid US and Swiss corruption investigations

Cameron diverts extra £12bn to defence

Bill will be met by spending cuts elsewhere with police, welfare and business grants in line of fire

Brussels faces third day of lockdown

Sixteen arrests as PM says threat of Paris-style attacks remains 'serious and imminent'

VIDEO

BAE on the defensive

Shares in defence contractors such as the UK's BAE Systems rose in the wake of the Paris terror attacks. But selling military kit is a long term and unpredictable business. Lex's Jonathan Eley and Giles Wikes discuss how BAE compares with its US peers.

US HOMEPAGE

Fifa: The fall of the house of Blatter

The inside story on the moves being made by football's governing body to survive amid US and Swiss corruption investigations

Pfizer and Allergan race to seal deal

Tie-up to create world's biggest drugmaker set to be unveiled before markets open

Mauricio Macri wins Argentina election

Ascension of centre-right candidate heralds beginning of a new political era for country

EUROPE HOMEPAGE

Hollande steps up campaign against Isis

French president to urge Barack Obama to intensify military campaign in Syria

Blackout in Crimea after power line blasts

Reminder of peninsula's heavy economic reliance on Ukraine after its annexation by Russia

VW scandal heightens platinum concerns

Investors fear over-supply as automotive and jewellery demand drops

ASIA HOMEPAGE

The Hiroshima Panels, Pioneer Works, New York — 'history is given a moral weight'

Three decades in the making, paintings by a Japanese couple depict the 'hellscape' left behind by the nuclear attack

China and US clash over South China Sea

Washington and Beijing blame each other for 'militarising' the region

Russia aims to clinch Iran export deals

Sukhoi in talks to sell jets as lifting of sanctions set to begin

WORLD NEWS

Why does Mali have a terror problem?

Hotel siege shows resilience of terror groups in Sahel desert

Hope for Paris climate talks after terror

Some environmental experts think attacks will encourage unity, though tough issues remain

West sees hope of Syria deal with Moscow

Optimism nurtured by growing signs of Russia's co-operation as its military intervention falters

Trump hits out over refugees and security

Republican frontrunner says he would bring back waterboarding for terror suspects

Israel lambasts Berlin department store

KaDeWe criticised for removing products made in Jewish settlements

COMPANIES NEWS

Hedge funds raid Silicon Valley for talent

Demand for computer scientists makes stars of technologists

Siemens warns over Europe political risk

Paris terror attacks could hit eurozone recovery, says chief executive

HSBC embarks on non-executive drive

More fresh blood in boardroom could help quell investor unease over succession plan

Rolls-Royce to outline revival timetable

Warren East looks to restore investor faith after five profit warnings

CMA CGM in exclusive talks with NOL

French shipping group eyes Singapore rival as Maersk pulls out

MARKETS

Asia markets in quiet start to week

Sentiment upbeat, but falling commodity prices continue to weigh

Bond issuance in euros hits six-year high

Investment grade companies scramble to sell debt ahead of any ECB QE2

Transcript: FT City Network

Top financiers discuss whether backstop liquidity facilities should be extended beyond banks

Markets dairy

Attention turns to spending plans in the UK's Autumn Statement and to US malls for Black Friday

COMMENT

America's inconvenient SUV boom

Gas-guzzling models are back in vogue in the US, so why should poorer nations cut emissions?

Deal with cause, not symptoms, of Isis

Conflict and injustice attracts more recruits than we can capture or kill, writes Philip Gordon

End the folly of a borderless Europe

There are, in principle, two fixes, repair the Schengen area or revert to national systems

Bank regulators too need incentives

When a supervisor makes a decision, they take a risk with a big downside, writes Daniel Davies

'JFK's Forgotten Crisis', by Bruce Riedel

President Kennedy's other international dilemma

MANAGEMENT

Alan Horn, Walt Disney Studios' head Jedi

The new Star Wars movie is set to be another hit for the veteran boss

Feeling useless is essential for success

One problem of getting older is that your self-knowledge goes up but so does your complacency

Following Zuckerberg on paternity leave

Fathers have hesitated to take shared time off but the advice is to not hold back

Feedback: overrated headhunters

Reader comments on Andrew Hill's column criticising CEO selection

Manage email

Forward this email

Feedback

Manage portfolio

Subscribe to the FT

Follow the FT

Unsubscribe | My Account | RSS | Privacy Policy | About Us | Help

© THE FINANCIAL TIMES LTD 2015

You have received this email because you have signed up from the NBE preference page.

This email was sent by a company owned by Pearson plc, registered office at 80 Strand, London WC2R 0RL.

Registered in England and Wales with company number 53723.